

is recruiting an innovative and committed Attendance Adviser

Do you:

- have a passionate commitment to ensuring all learners, including the most vulnerable, maintain outstanding school attendance to support best educational outcomes?
- have a warm, authentic and inspiring approach to working in partnership with children/young people, families and schools?
- have a proven track record of supporting positive change when working with children/young people and their families?
- have a working knowledge of current legislation and statutory guidance in relation to school attendance?

We are recruiting an Attendance Adviser for 20 hours per week to deliver high quality support and advice to schools to ensure outstanding attendance for all learners. The salary is £30,000 pro rata and as an equal opportunities employer, we offer flexible working arrangements and will consider term-time only contracts.

What would BDSIP offer you in return?

A dynamic, thriving environment where you will:

- roll your sleeves up and work hands-on with colleagues in our partner schools, modelling effective practice and working closely with young people.
- share knowledge and expertise within a team of inclusion and school improvement experts.
- shape best practice approaches in schools to ensure the educational and social inclusion of our most vulnerable learners.
- collaborate in the development of BDSIP's strategy to promote inclusion and secure the best possible outcomes for all learners.
- lend your voice to the national debate about effective approaches to achieve inclusion for all.
- guarantee a commitment to your continuing professional development so your practice is informed by the most current pedagogy.

If your values match ours, we would welcome an application from you.

BDSIP is a not-for-profit organisation who provide professional educational services to schools as a trusted partner.

As an organisation, BDSIP is proud to be leading work with our schools to address issues of race and social justice. We value the diversity of our borough and want our workforce to reflect the diversity of the communities we serve. Accordingly, we welcome applications from candidates of all backgrounds, particularly those currently underrepresented in our workforce.

Our organisation is committed to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children, young people and vulnerable adults and expect all staff and post holders to share this commitment.

- To apply, please complete the BDSIP application form and return it to us by Monday 18th July at 5pm via info@bdsip.co.uk. Please note that for safer recruitment purposes, we do not accept applications unless they are submitted on our application form.
