Targeted Literacy Interventions: Improving Reading Outcomes and Confidence

📖We are pleased to share a new blog from Louise Harding reflecting on the impact of targeted literacy interventions delivered across secondary schools in Barking and Dagenham as part of the Making Friends with a Book research project.

💬The blog explores how carefully matched one-to-one and small-group literacy interventions have supported students to make progress in reading, build confidence, improve engagement and develop a more positive relationship with reading. This is exactly the thinking underpinning the Literacy Skills Courses and Talk Through Text programmes being delivered at BDSIP.

🎯The article also includes feedback from Barking Abbey School, highlighting the value of the programme in practice and the importance of building whole-school approaches to literacy.

🏫As schools begin planning support for the next academic year, this is a helpful read for those looking to strengthen reading intervention, support students below age-related expectations and improve reading confidence across the curriculum.
Read the full blog here.

For more information about the Literacy Skills Courses and Talk Through Text programmes, please contact Louise Harding at Louise.Harding@bdsip.co.uk.

Free Online Training from the Virtual School

LBBD schools can contact BDSIP to access free online training from the Virtual School, designed to support some of our most vulnerable children and young people.

The training is particularly focused on the needs of children with a social worker, and may also be useful for staff supporting pupils with SEMH, autism and SLCN.

The online units provide practical classroom strategies and are designed to be completed in around one hour.

Access is free for all LBBD schools — you just need a sign-in to get started.

📩 Contact us at CPDEvents@bdsip.co.uk to request access or find out more.

Teaching RE with Confidence | Free CPD for B&D Schools

RE Matters is offering four free twilight sessions to help primary teachers and secondary teachers who teach RE alongside another specialism strengthen their subject knowledge and classroom practice.

The sessions cover seven religions and belief systems, with practical teaching ideas and guidance on addressing misconceptions and encouraging respectful discussion.

📅 Online: 8 December 2026, 13 January and 24 February 2027, 4.00–5.15pm
📍 In person in Barking and Dagenham: 8 June 2027, 4.00–5.30pm, with an opportunity to meet representatives from different religions and beliefs.

Scan the QR code on the flyer here to book, or email Georgina Neil for further details.

Inclusive Leadership: Leading for Equity, Belonging, and Achievement; designed for teachers and school leaders. This programme integrates the SEND Code of Practice, Universal Design for Learning (UDL), and principles of race and social justice. It invites personal reflection, collaborative problem solving, and direct school-based observation to empower inclusive leadership.

National STEM Festival 2026

The Future Shows Up Early

Applications for the National STEM Festival are now open for students aged 13-17, with the deadline for entries on 22 November 2026.

Up to 40 National STEM Champions from across the UK will be selected to showcase their projects from 5-10 May 2027, at various London locations. Travel and accommodation will be fully funded for every Champion. Champions will have the opportunity to share their ideas with scientists, engineers and leaders from industry, government and education.

Students need to complete an online application, including written project information, a project PDF of up to three pages and a video of up to two minutes explaining their work. Projects should address one of four themes:

- Building and Infrastructure
- Health and Human Potential
- Technology, AI and Digital Futures
- Food, Planet and Sustainability

Monitor your School Attendance

Introduction and Refresher Webinar from DfE

The DfE are holding a webinar on Tuesday 10 November for schools that are new to the Monitor your school attendance tool, or want a refresher. This session is for schools, academy trusts and local authorities. You don't need any previous experience of the tool to join, and if you already use it, it's a chance to check you're making the most of it.

Tuesday 10 November
11:00am - 11:45am
Register via Eventbrite

The presenters will walk through the tool from the start, showing you:

- how to access it through View your education data (VYED)
- what the main reports show and how to read them
- how to use your similar schools comparison report to see how your attendance compares with schools like yours
- how to use attendance workflows to identify pupils and cohorts who may need support
- how to use Explore your attendance patterns to spot trends across the year
- where to find guidance and help if you get stuck

The recording will be added to the DfE Attendance YouTube channel.

Enhancing Science Planning

Explorify

Explorify, from STEM Learning, has engaging, discussion-led activities that bring science to life in the primary classroom. And there's no charge to use the resources.

Explorify (STEM Learning account needed)

There is also a wealth of teacher support designed to help teachers plan with confidence and make their lessons even more meaningful and inclusive, including:

- Top Tips guide - breaks down all 13 activity types, explaining when and how to use them.
- Explorify planning support - join a primary science expert in free, short, pre-recorded videos to find out about new activities and how these can support science teaching in the classroom.
- Tackle the tricky bits guide - every teacher has topics they find challenging to explain or areas where misconceptions often arise. The Tackle the Tricky Bits guides combine clear background science with practical teaching ideas.
- Explorify for inclusion - the Explorify for Inclusion hub shares strategies, and practical ideas, from expert teachers, showing how Explorify can be adapted to meet the needs of all learners, including those with SEND.

DFE: 10,000 Young People to get Foot in the Door of Britain's Tech Sector as Work Placements Rolled Out Across the Country

Press Release - 21 October 2026

All secondary schools can now access TechFirst, a government programme helping pupils develop digital skills and explore careers in technology. The programme aims to reach one million young people by 2028, including 400,000 pupils from disadvantaged schools.

💻 Schools can access workshops, careers talks, tech clubs, competitions and online learning. Alongside the rollout, major employers have pledged 10,000 digital and technology work experience opportunities over the next three years. This could be useful for careers leads and teachers supporting pupils to explore their options.

Find out what TechFirst offers schools or read the full announcement. GOV.UK

DFE: “Generational Moment” as Government Acts on Landmark Antisemitism Review

Press Release - 21 October 2026

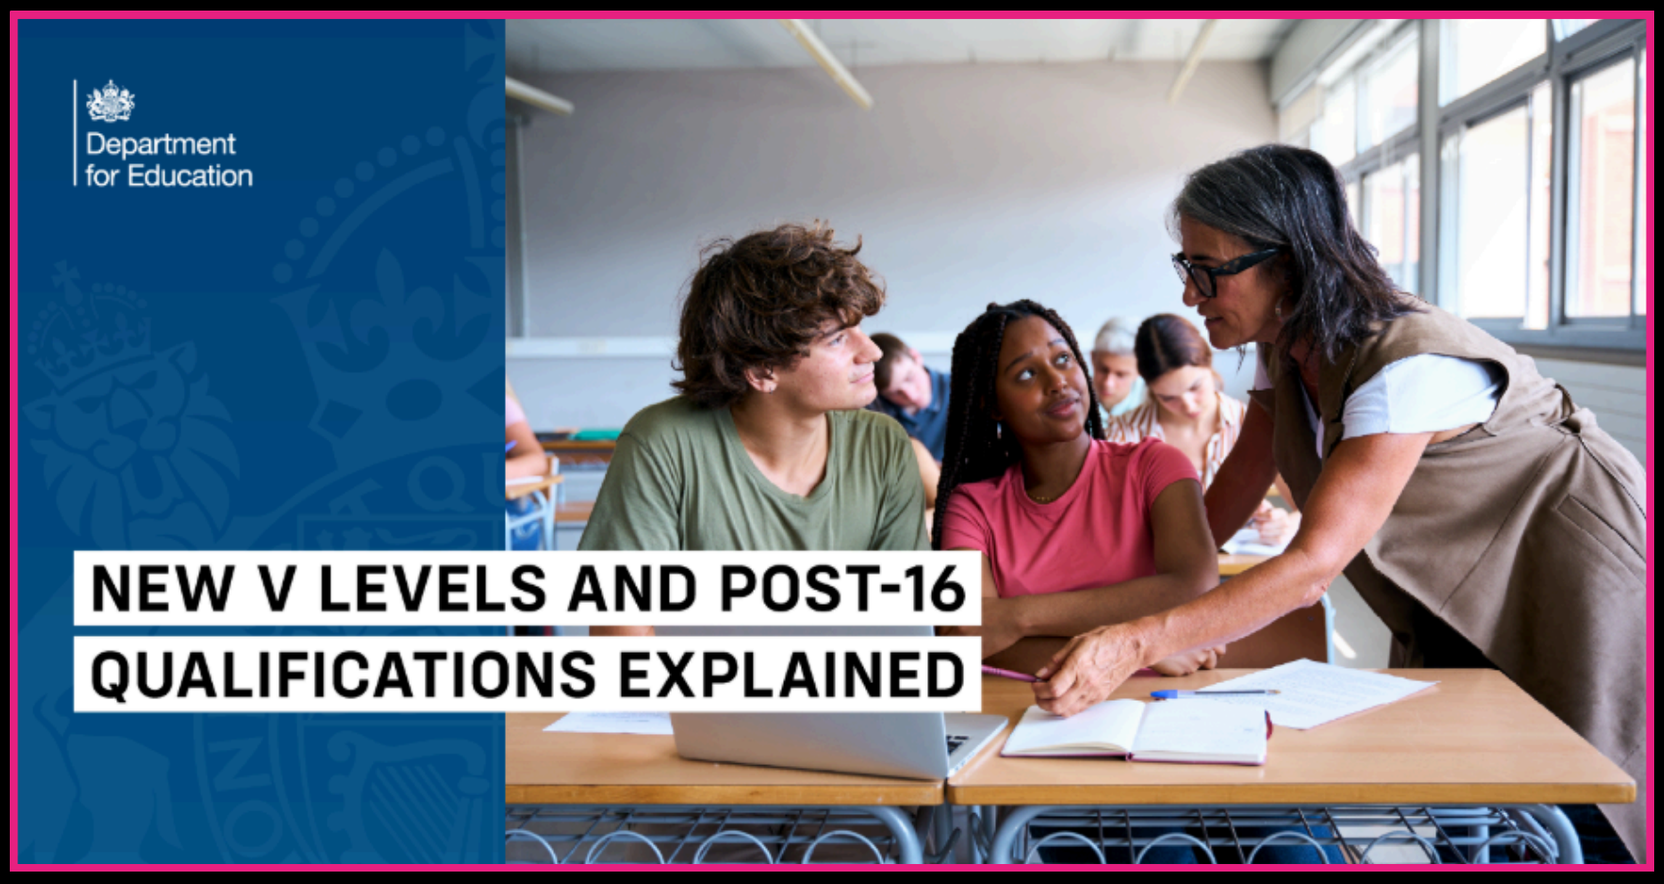

Sir David Bell’s independent review found that antisemitism is a significant and growing challenge in schools and colleges. It calls for clearer guidance and more consistent support so staff can recognise and respond to incidents, and Jewish pupils and staff feel safe.

🛡️ The government has accepted all 27 recommendations. Planned measures include training for leaders and safeguarding staff, stronger guidance on safeguarding and political impartiality, improved recording of incidents, and support for schools managing complex cases. An implementation group will oversee progress, with a further review after one year.

DFE: New Post-16 Qualifications Explained

Teacher Bulletin - 12 October 2026

Students choosing what to do after GCSEs will soon have more vocational options. The first V Levels, Foundation Certificates and Occupational Certificates are planned for September 2027, alongside existing A Levels and T Levels.

📚 What do they mean? V Levels are Level 3 qualifications for students interested in vocational subjects who may not yet want to specialise in one occupation. Foundation Certificates are intended to help students build towards further study, while Occupational Certificates offer a route towards skilled work or an apprenticeship. The explainer is a useful starting point for teachers discussing post-16 choices with pupils and parents.

DFE: Teacher Resources for Post-16 Choices

Teacher guide and resource pack - 12 October 2026

With new qualifications on the way, pupils and parents may have questions about which route best suits their interests and ambitions. The DfE's two-page teacher guide includes an at-a-glance comparison to support conversations at options events, in careers lessons and with individual pupils.

📄 A wider pack includes posters, leaflets, FAQs, videos and animations that schools can use to explain the choices in more detail.

DFE: Planning for Post-16 Qualification Changes
Implementation Plan - 12 October 2026

The DfE's implementation plan sets out which qualifications are changing and when. It covers the introduction of V Levels, Foundation Certificates and Occupational Certificates, as well as the transition from existing qualifications.

🗓️ School and college leaders can use the timeline to plan curriculum provision and careers education, and to check which options will be available to different year groups.

DFE: New Vocational GCSEs Announced

Announcement - 12 October 2026

The government has announced plans for Vocational GCSEs that would give pupils a chance to study practical and technical subjects alongside academic GCSEs. The first qualifications could be available from September 2029, making the plans particularly relevant to pupils currently in Year 7 and below.

🔧 The qualifications are intended to let pupils explore vocational interests before deciding on a post-16 route. Further detail is still to be developed, and a consultation is planned.
